Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 22 June 2005.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

- 4) ☒ Claim(s) 1-11 is/are pending in the application.

DETAILED ACTION

This Office action is responsive to communication received 08/22/2005 – Amendment.

Claims 1-11 remain pending.

Following is an action on the MERITS:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yabu. As to claim 1, note sound bar or support (10) connected at the crown behind the striking face and further connected at the sole. As to claim 3, Figure 5 clearly shows that element (10) is elongated. As to claim 9, note the embodiments in Figures 10-14, showing plural vertically oriented sound bars (10). The sound bars are deemed to be elastic supporting members. As there is no discussion in Yabu about any type of rigid attachment of the sound bars or about any type of compressive stress placed on the sound bars, it would appear that at least the middle of the sound bar may freely move.

Art Unit: 3711

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Beach (2005/0192119). Here, the filing date of the parent file to Beach is being relied upon. Specifically, a filing date of 11/01/2002 for the parent file 10/285,842 is being relied upon. Note member (12), which may be made from either metallic or non-metallic materials. See paragraph [0027]. It would appear that at least the middle of the member (12) may freely move.

Claims 4, 5 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yabu. The patent to Yabu differs from the claimed invention in that Yabu fails to show a specific hardness and a supporting member in the shape of an "X". As to claim 5, note Figures 10-14 showing that the sound bars may be arranged in a plurality of configurations. Thus, the skilled artisan would have found it obvious to shape the arrangement of the supporting members into the shape of an "X" in order to, for instance, create a different acoustic effect. As to claims 4 and 11 and the specific hardness value, the skilled artisan would have found it obvious to select a suitable material based upon the characteristics of a specific known material. It is recognized here that the applicant has not invented the claimed material with a hardness greater than HRC 35, but has merely made use of the qualities of an available material with this hardness.

Drawings

The drawings were received on 06/22/2005. These drawings are acceptable to the examiner.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2, 6, 7, 8 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
